Candidates rejected shall not be permitted to again present application for membership until three (3) months have elapsed. If rejected, the fee paid shall be returned to the applicant.

Section 6. (a). Dues are due and payable on the first day of each calendar month. A member owes two (2) months dues on the first day of the second month, which means that two (2) months dues, and not a portion thereof, must be paid on or before midnight of the last day of that month or the member will be automatically suspended. It is the responsibility of every member to know when dues are payable and pay them to an authorized representative of his Lodge within the time limits specified in this Article. No demand for payment of such dues or notice of nonpayment thereof or delinquency is necessary or required. A member who fails to pay his dues within the time limits specified in this Article is automatically suspended at 12 o'clock midnight of the last day of the second month for which he owes dues. - (c). A member suspended for non-payment of dues may apply for reinstatement upon payment of reinstatement fee plus any unpaid assessment or any unpaid dues for which he was liable under a union shop or other agreement between the Division and his employer at the time of suspension. If the suspended member is subject to the terms and conditions of a union shop, check-off or a union security agreement between the Division and the employer, and has been reported by the Lodge to the International Representative for non-compliance with the terms and conditions of such agreement, the application and tender of dues and/or fees shall not be accepted unless approved by the International Representative, before his application can be acted upon by the Lodge. If the member fails to surrender his withdrawal card, sign an application for reinstatement and pay a month's dues within thirty-five (35) days after his return, the card will become null and void and he will be required to pay the reinstatement fee necessary to reinstate his membership in the Division.
- (e). Immediately after the Lodge accepts the withdrawal card, it shall report the applicant to the National Secretary-Treasurer on MR-1 report with the application. The dues owed on such members shall be remitted on the basis set forth in Article 25 of the Constitution. If the applicant is accepted as a member by the National Union, the National Secretary-Treasurer shall then issue a membership card.
- Section 8. (a). A member desiring to transfer his membership to another Lodge under the jurisdiction of the National Union may do so by requesting transfer from his present Lodge. #### WELCOME TO NEW MEMBERS

(New members form a line in front of the President as their names are called.)

PRESIDENT:....(My friend or friends)....we extend to you a cordial welcome; we are pleased that you are identifying...(Yourself or yourselves)....with your fellow workers in this organization. Henceforth may your labors and influence be for our mutual benefit. This Union is dedicated to the laudable purpose of defense, self-protection, the improvement of our mental, moral and social conditions and the elevation of our occupation. I extend to you my right hand and with it you will receive the Union hand clasp.

Your attention is called to the story of the bundle of sticks; bound together it is impossible for you to either bend or break them; withdraw one hand, it may easily be bent or broken. Here we learn a lesson in unity which proves that in unity there is strength and so it is with you. Alone, you will be compelled to yield and break, but, bound by the cords of Union, a giant's strength would be expended in vain. Therefore, as no chain is stronger than its weakest link, see to it that you are not a defective link in our fraternal chain, so that in times of imminent peril and danger to our Union the chain of mutual interest which binds us together will not be broken. Strive to attend the meeting of your lodge regularly and thus improve your knowledge and interest in the Union.

The voting sign, which is used for both an affirmative or negative vote, is made by raising the right hand, with palm forward.

Your right to visit lodges other than the one in which you hold membership must be agreeable to the lodges that you desire to visit.

The gavel in the hands of the President is used to govern the movements of this lodge. *Calls to order or seats the lodge if standing. **Calls up the officers, and ***Calls up the whole lodge.

You will now face about and as your name is called take two steps forward, so that the members may recognize you and know you by name. Members of .......Lodge No. ......, I take great pleasure in introducing to you ....(Brother or Sister)...(names them)....who are now entitled to share in all the benefits and privileges of our Union. And now...(Brother or Sister)...(names them)....you may be seated.

FUNERAL CEREMONIES

Opening Ode, "Lead, Kindly Light"

(The members of the lodge will form a circle about the casket, if indoors, and around the grave if in the burying ground. The President at the head of the casket supported by the Past President on the right and the Chaplain on the left. The Sergeant-at-Arms, as Marshal, will see that the members are properly formed around the casket, and then take the place at the foot, opposite the President. The members will stand with the right hand over the heart.)

PRESIDENT: Fellow members, the messenger of death has again knocked at the door of our lodge and one of our members has been called away to join the silent majority, a beloved companion has been summoned hence; the circle of friendship has been broken, never more on earth to be renewed. No more shall we look into those eyes which have smiled upon us in friendly greeting, nor feel the warm clasp of our Brother's (or Sister's) hand. He (or she) has passed away, and it is with sorrowful hearts we contemplate the brevity of human life, and yet in our sorrow we are comforted by the thought that he (or she) has passed away from the toil and heat of the day, the burdens and sorrows of his (or her) earthly career for him (or her) all these are o'er. He (or she) has gone to his (or her) rest, sweet rest, in that calm haven where all is rest and peace, and where the storms and trials of life no more molest. Life is but a span, and when it is o'er it is as a tale that is told. Let us then be up and doing while the full tide of life flows in our veins; let us so live that our lives may be a constant example to all around us, and thus fill the measure of our days with usefulness, and pure motives, and prepare ourselves against that day when we, too, shall be as our beloved Brother (or Sister), who has gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. To his (or her) relatives and friends we bid them look to Him who is the Supreme Ruler of the universe, in whom we live and move and have our being, to Him who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb. He who is the steadfast friend of erring humanity, who in the greatness of His love looks down upon us all with pity and sympathy, and although the trials of the present hour are such as to cause us pain and anguish of spirit, yet He will comfort the troubled heart. Then let us turn to Him in our affliction, fully confident that He will hear our prayer and grant us the blessing we so much need. Let us pray.

CHAPLAIN: Our Father, Who are in Heaven, we come to Thee humbly beseeching Thy blessing upon all assembled here. Let this lesson of the brevity and uncertainty of life teach us so to walk, while we are still numbered with the living, that our lives should be an honor to Thee and a cherished memory to our friends, when we, too, have gone from this terrestrial world to the celestial and all-glorious home above, where Thou dost forever reign in glory. To Thee we commend the relatives and friends bereaved; be Thou their guide and comfort and bless them, and lead them in the paths of peace until they, too, shall have crossed the narrow river of death, to meet as a united band around Thy throne in Heaven, and to Thy great name be honor and glory forevermore. Amen.

PRESIDENT: We now commit the body to the earth; earth to earth, dust to dust, ashes to ashes, and commend the spirit to God who gave it; the Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord, who doeth all things well. To our Brother (or Sister) we bid a last fraternal farewell, and hope to meet him (or her) again in the presence of the Supreme Auditor above, where all accounts are balanced, all debts canceled, and due credit given for all the good deeds here below. Farewell, dear Brother (or Sister), farewell.

CLOSING ODE

Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee,
E'en though it be a cross That raiseth me;
Still all my song shall be
Nearer, my God, to Thee
Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee.
Though like a wanderer The sun gone down,
Darkness be o'er me, My rest a stone;
Yet in my dreams I'd be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
There let the way appear, Steps unto heaven,
All that Thou sendeth me In mercy given;
Angels to beckon me,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,

Then with my waking thoughts
Bright with Thy praise
Out of Thy stony griefs, Bethel I'll raise,
So by Thy woes to be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
